SPOT THE BIRD

A bird may or may not have been removed from this picture. You are invited to print this page out and to use your skill and judgement to mark the exact centre of the bird on the picture. If you then send it back to me, supplying your name and address where shown, I'll cut it out and put your contribution on a table in front of an enlarged version of this image. And put it in an art exhibition. If you are really up for it, by all means make a number of marks on the paper, at no cost to you beyond your time and inclination. Or make just one (mark).

Please could you send the completed paper to me at:
